

JUST STRAPS®

The Australian Made Tie-Down

NOW THERE ARE TWO REASONS TO BUY THE BEST 4X4 RECOVERY STRAPS.
OUR 4WD PRODUCT SAFETY AND INFORMATION STANDARD JSF (AUST) 2007™
AND ALSO THE MANDATORY SAFETY STANDARD RECENTLY INTRODUCED.

Since the introduction of our JSF, Just Safety First, campaign a few years ago, our Snatch Straps also now fully comply with the new Mandatory Safety Standard introduced late last year. The recommended strap rating of between 2-3 times the GVM (gross vehicle mass) of the vehicle coincides directly with our Recovery Load Limit R.L.L.® rating and the Minimum Breaking Strength MBS of the strap.

Example of this is a vehicle that weighs approximately 3,100kg GVM (Toyota Land Cruiser or Nissan Patrol) would ideally require a Snatch Strap with a rating of between 6,200kg to 9,300kg.

NOW! Let's introduce our latest new product.

Product development is a vital part of a successful business. At Just Straps we are constantly developing new concepts and ideas. This new Snatch Strap is rated at 6,200kg Recovery Load Limit R.L.L. and 9,300kg Minimum Breaking Strength MBS. These ratings coincide directly with the recommendation for the Mandatory Safety Standard. Now, doesn't this tell you something?

We know how to make straps and that's why we recommend our products and rate them with a safety factor for the consumer to use our products with confidence and above all safety.

There are many governing factors that reduce the strength and capacity of these very useful but potentially dangerous products, hence, the Recovery Load Limit rating of Snatch Straps should only be used when choosing the correct rated product for a particular vehicle.

Remember one snatch strap will not suit each and every vehicle.
