Master Art
Glass Craftsman

Tradition Stained Glass is a family-owned and operated business. At Tradition Stained Glass we are very proud of our history and prominence within our industry. As a third-generation designer, I believe our business has contributed many quality pieces of art glass to our broad variety of customers, and will continue to do so for years to come.

From its humble beginnings in Holland, the legacy of our business began with my great grandfather in 1908. His basic skills were then passed onto my grandfather, who fell in love with the stained glass art form. My grandfather began to explore the possibilities of creating beautiful art pieces in glass. His enthusiasm opened up many new doors to create stunning stained glass for cathedrals and private residences.

In 1952, he moved his family and his business to Fremantle. Over time, my grandfather developed a strong reputation as a prominent and well-respected craftsman in the stained glass industry.
